ABOUT SHERMAN ORCHID GARDENS—We take pride in telling you that we are judged one of the largest quality growers of Cymbidium and Cyripedium orchids in the World today. We supply orchids to amateur and commercial growers in every corner of the world. Most of our business is done by mail, but we certainly invite you to visit our nursery any time you are in the Los Angeles area.

Our stock of top florist and show quality Cymbidiums and Cyripediums are well known to orchid fanciers. Fine exhibition and stud varieties are available to hybridizers and others wanting championship stock. Among these are the varieties which have won the highest honors wherever fine orchids have been exhibited, and whose progeny are now setting new standards and winning new honors. Many of these world famous plants can be seen in bloom at our nursery during flowering season.

We are approximately 20-25 minutes drive east (on the San Bernardino Freeway) of the Los Angeles City Hall.

WATERING

A safe method to follow in watering Cymbidiums is as follows: Whenever plants are watered, give them a thorough soaking and water again when media is still moist. Of course, growing plants require more water during the summer months and Cymbidiums are no exception. Cymbidiums should not be allowed to get dry.

TEMPERATURES

Cymbidiums have demonstrated their ability to grow and thrive in many localities and under widely different conditions of heat and cold. During hot dry weather a little extra humidity can be provided by an occasional light sprinkling on the foliage. In the other direction, Cymbidiums will tolerate several degrees of frost. When grown under glass, the minimum temperatures should be 50 to 58° and the maximum temperatures preferably below 95°. Grown outdoors, Cymbidiums will stand temperatures as low as 28 to 30° F. for short periods.

FERTILIZING

We recommend regular feeding with a balanced fertilizer such as Gaviota Orchid Fertilizer. From October through February, CYMBIDIUMS are easy to grow if you follow our simple instructions. During winter and early spring, most plants will average twelve—some up to thirty and more flowers on each spike. Color ranges include white, pink, rose, ivory, yellow, bronze and many shades of chartreuse and green. For the commercial flower grower the winter through spring blooming period, plus high flower production, wide color range and extreme long lasting characteristics make Cymbidiums most attractive for either large or small scale production.

Since cymbidiums grow for decades, producing more flowers with age, your modest investment in plants may last you a lifetime. You will note many of the offers include three grades, with prices reflecting the quality of the grade.

YES! Cymbidiums Are Easy To Grow!

Have you ever grown Fuchsias, Tuberous Begonias, Camellias or Azaleas? . . . Then you can grow Cymbidiums. Yes, it's true, once their simple requirements are understood, Cymbidiums are indeed easy to grow and they require no special skill in their culture.

Cymbidiums are most satisfactory for the 'cool' glasshouse, or the average lath house makes a good growing location as well as the area under light foliaged trees which admit plenty of light (40% - 60% or 2000 - 3500 foot candles). The plants themselves may be grown in pots or in prepared beds in the ground. Either method is satisfactory and of course plants in beds require less attention in regard to watering. The beds should have good drainage and have lots of fir bark added. An ideal compost is as follows:

18 parts fir bark 4 parts sandy silt sand

Add 4 oz. Gaviota Orchid Food, ½ lb. gypsum and 1 lb. Dolomite lime per 2½ cu. ft. of the above compost.

Pot grown plants benefit by repotting every two to three years.

feed once each month, then each ten days or two weeks the rest of the year. If potting composts contain high quantities of garden loam, leaf mold, etc. feed as directed on container. (See Items No. 616, 617, and 618 on page 24.)

PESTS

Cymbidiums are not bothered by many pests and the usual precautions and corrective measures applied to other evergreen plants are usually satisfactory.

CYMBIDIUM BACK BULBS

Back bulbs offer another satisfactory method of increasing or upgrading cymbidium stock. We have cymbidium back bulbs available at special low prices throughout the year. Check with us on your needs. The cultural method here is to place the base of the bulb in the recommended porous compost to 1/4 or 1/3 its depth. Water or sprinkle to keep lightly moist. When roots are approximately 1" long from the new growth, the bulb may be potted and cared for as mature plants. Back bulb propagations will flower in approximately 3 to 4 years.

SHERMAN ORCHID GARDENS Producers of FINE Cymbidiums and Cypripediums

Through the years has built its reputation on quality plants. Especially is this true in the two important genera, cymbidium and cypripedium, where only the best will do. When you grow top quality plants and hybrids of SHERMAN ORCHID GARDENS stock, you are availing yourself of plant specialists—experienced hybridists, who have devoted years of effort to the perfection of fine plants.

CYPRIPEDIUM Orchids

The Beautiful Lady Slipper Orchid

ROGER COULSON AM-RHS
Gold Award

DENSHAW 'ALSTON'

MANDOLIN

SHERMAN ORCHID GARDENS ALSO SPECIALIZE IN CYPRIPEDIUM, the beautiful Lady Slipper orchids which are becoming so popular as a corsage cut flower and by flower growers and garden lovers everywhere who admire unusually fine things.

Like cymbidium, these fine orchids are exceptionally long lasting—it not being unusual for Cypripedium flowers to last 6 or 8 weeks or even longer. FOR GROWING IN THE HOME, Cypripedium are the most satisfying orchids.

THE CULTURAL REQUIREMENTS OF CYPRIPEDIUMS follow those of Cymbidium except that they require more shade (note recommended compost). As they have no bulbs, they require somewhat oftener watering, and should never be allowed to become completely dry at the roots. The plain green leaf varieties should be grown cool. The temperature range is as great as those listed for cymbidium. However the mottled leaf varieties require more heat and should have a temperature of 58° - 60° min., and max. temperature preferably below 95°. Pot grown plants benefit by repotting approximately every 2 years.

A recommended compost is as follows:

½ lb. gypsum, 1 lb. Dolomite lime, and 4 oz. Gaviota Orchid Food per 2½ cu. ft. of fir bark. (See Items No. 616, 617 and 618 on page 24.)

We also recommend this compost for all other orchids except cymbidiums.

Grown in the home, they should be placed in a very light position such as an east, south or west window. During the hottest part of the year give filtered sun if facing south or west (such as split bamboo affords).

For fertilizing, follow that as recommended for cymbidium.

WALTER MOORE FCC-RHS

No Collection Should be Without These Outstanding and Easily Grown Plants

Most amateur orchid enthusiasts prefer the Cypripedium varieties. These grow easily; require about the same conditions and care as begonias. You can grow beautiful Cypripedium orchids on a window sill in your home, or in a greenhouse or solarium. Flowers are highly prized for corsages. These are longest lasting of any commercial orchid, remaining for 6 to 8 weeks.

Cypripedium are practically ageless and increase in size each year. Stock is increased by dividing large plants. There are huge blocks of plants in nurseries throughout the world which originated from one single plant.

SELENIPEDIUM Orchids

(Central American Cypripedium)

These unusual cypripedium are attractive evergreen plants, producing long stems on which the many flowers open over a long period of time. Most of these do not have a specific period for flowering and can be expected to bloom more than once each year. Flowers are of pleasing colors and some varieties have petals up to 12" long.

Easily grown, they do well with a minimum night temperature of 55°F. or above. We list well known choice varieties, all flowering size plants. They should be included in every collection.

ZYGOPETALUM Orchids

Zygopetalum (zygo-pet-a-lum) orchids, of which the variety Mackayi (Mackay-i) is the most popular and valuable is one than can be grown with cymbidium or cypripedium. They are an easy to grow, compact plant, producing spikes of 6-8 or more 3" flowers from the new growth during the winter months. Fine for arrangements or as corsages. The flowers are attractive and unusual in that they have large bluish purple lips with deeper lining. The petals and sepals are green with brown markings. Along with this, the flowers have a lovely fragrance to further enhance them. We offer these in three sizes. Prices include free packing.

“Orchids of Quality and Distinction”

You Can't Buy Better Seedlings

The following list of cymbidium seedling hybrids is the essence of quality in every instance.

In studying the individual crosses, you will find we use only the best and that with one exception (and this for specific color) all have as one parent (or in the close background) the famous and consistently superior Alexanderi 'Westonbirt'. No other cymbidium has such a celebrated heritage and career as this parent. Almost every fine cymbidium today has been made possible by the use of this one stud plant. No other cymbidium can compare to this record.

You will note most of the seedlings are triploid crosses, noted for high production and fine quality flowers.

This is your assurance of quality. Avail yourself of the finest. Look Ahead—Be Ahead. Place your order now—you can grow these seedlings with confidence.

CULTURE

CYMBIDIUM SEEDLINGS can be grown with mature plants and under the same conditions (see catalog or our cultural bulletin). However, to obtain somewhat faster growth the following suggestions are offered: 50°F - 65°F, minimum temperature, 1200 - 2500 ft. candles of light, an open light compost (such as our M-3 formula), adequate watering (don't let the plants dry out), and a regular feeding program with a well-balanced fertilizer such as Gaviota Orchid Fertilizer. Feed approximately every two weeks unless the plants become too soft and dark green. If this occurs, stop feeding for a month or 6 weeks or increase the amount of light.

MINUET BA-OSSC

JEAN BRUMMITT

Miniature Cymbidium

Cymbidium in miniature have all the beauty of their larger counterpart plus the charm and elegance which is only found in these new hybrids of dainty size. The plants are small and attractive and produce many flowers of good form and color on long stems. Everyone can enjoy these wonderful cymbidium. When in bloom, they are a perfect complement to any room.

The plants are easily grown and perfect where space is at a premium and are logical subjects to grow among the large plants. Regular culture afforded other cymbidium is very satisfactory, however they are also happy with a higher minimum temperature as well. A large 'specimen' plant of these minatures can be grown in a 5" pot.

L-1519 PUMILUM X CARIGA

The most satisfactory miniature hybrids have been made with 'Pumilum' and this should be no exception. Expected colors, rich yellows and reds.

Fine seedlings—leaves 4"-8" $4

L-1544 JEAN BRUMMITT X ALEXANDER 'ALBUM' FCC-RHS

No miniature cymbidium that we know holds as much interest and possibility. Jean Brummitt (itself a miniature hybrid) is strong, fast growing, beautiful and free flowering. In using (the fine white and famous) Alexander 'Album', one can expect outstanding, lovely miniature blooms in a wide range from white to dark red or green.

Fine seedlings—leaves 4"-8" $4

Unflowered CYPRIPEDIUM SEEDLINGS

We present this offering with the assurance that many outstanding cypripedium flowers of merit will result from our long-range planning, and the knowledge of what is necessary to produce the superior quality so important in today's highly developed cypripedium hybrids.

Our stock of stud plants include many of the finest prize winners and high quality proven breeding stock to be found anywhere in the world. We are proud of many recent high honors awarded our cypripediums, among which include—3 GOLD AWARDS, 9 SILVER AWARDS, 15 BRONZE AWARDS, to name a portion. Along with these, the praise given by those who know the superior stud stock we possess is a source of much satisfaction.

CULTURE Optimum Conditions

PLAIN GREEN LEAF (COOL) TYPES

- 55° - 60°F. minimum temperature . . . 75° - 80°F. maximum
Extremes as low as 28° - 30°F. minimum and 95° - 100° or more maximum
- 800 - 1500 ft. candles of light
Extremes of 400 - 3000 ft. candles
- Water often enough to keep moist (soak adequately to flush each time)
Extreme: dry roots for very short periods
- Feed every 4 - 5 waterings
Extremes: every 2 - 3 months

MOTTLED LEAF (WARM) TYPES

- 58° - 65°F. minimum temperature . . . 68° - 85°F. maximum
Range from 50° minimum and 95° - 100°F. maximum
- Light, water and feed requirements same as for the cool types.

As can be seen from the above, requirements for cypripediums are extremely simple, as they are adaptable to a wide variety of conditions and are normally the most pest free of all the orchids. The wide selection of colors and types, along with being, perhaps, the longest lasting of all orchid flowers (6 to 8 weeks or more), makes these plants so worthwhile and valuable to both amateur and commercial grower alike.

Care of cypripediums follows that of cymbidiums except that they require more shade (800 to 1500 ft. candles of light). As they have no bulbs, they require more frequent watering and should not be allowed to become dry at the roots. Conditions similar to those afforded begonias or African violets seem quite satisfactory. The plain green leaf varieties may be grown cool as with cymbidiums; however, the mottled leaf varieties require a temperature of 58°F. or above. Pot grown plants benefit by repotting approximately every 2 years.

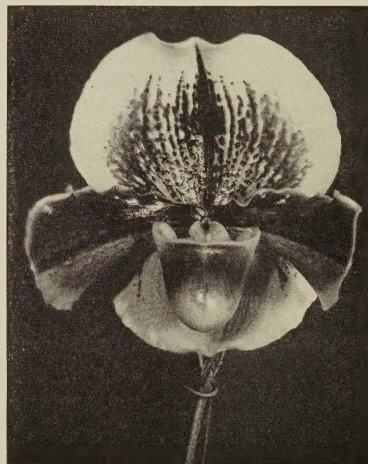

When grown in the home, they should be placed in a very light position, such as an east, south or west window. During the hottest part of the year give filtered sun if facing south or west (such as split bamboo affords). Fertilize approximately every fourth watering with a complete nutrient solution such as Gaviota Orchid Fertilizer.
